

A happy, brown and white dog is sitting on a wooden step, looking up with its mouth open. A person's hands are holding one of its paws, and they are using blue-handled nail clippers to trim the nails. The background is a warm orange color with decorative floral patterns in the corners.

Toenail trim? Pills? Vaccines? No problem.

Simple, effective training methods – Free online!

Your pet can learn to enjoy toenail trims, grooming, veterinary visits, and more. The key is simple behavior modification, and the techniques are available FREE for a limited time at lowstresshandling.com/online/abridged

To introduce her new book and DVD, Dr. Sophia Yin is offering free online access to the abridged edition of Low Stress Handling and Behavior Modification of Dogs & Cats. It's easy, no login or personal information required, just click and learn.

- Put a stop to the stress you and your pet feel during your veterinary appointments.
- Understand why pets behave badly and what to do.
- Learn the human body signals that will put your pet at ease.
- Train cats and dogs to love getting pills, injections, veterinary visits and more.

Dr. Sophia Yin, DVM, MS

The Art and Science of Animal Behavior